High Performance Team Coaching

Feel Confident Working With Teams, Groups, and Organizational Complexity

Whether you're a coach, leader, consultant, facilitator, or HR professional, working with groups of people requires a different skill set than working one-to-one.

Teams bring competing priorities, differing perspectives, conflict, politics, and complexity.

Erickson's High Performance Team Coaching gives you the confidence, structure, and practical tools to guide teams toward stronger collaboration, alignment, and performance.

Who Is It For?

Coaches
Expand beyond one-to-one coaching and work effectively with groups and organizations.

Facilitators & Consultants
A proven structure for managing group dynamics, building alignment, and navigating complexity.

Leaders & HR
Practical tools to strengthen collaboration, activate team intelligence, and build high-performing teams. Also ideal for Scrum Masters.

Why It Matters Now

Modern leaders are no longer managing simple hierarchies. They are navigating:

- hybrid and cross-functional teams
- multiple stakeholders and competing priorities
- faster change cycles
- greater demands for inclusion and psychological safety

"High-performing teams are a significant competitive advantage. They are 2.5 times more agile, able to quickly change direction, learn new skills, and support each other in times of change."

Deloitte, January 2026
